GAME SHOWS

Survey Says (aka Family Feud) is a high-energy game where teams buzz in to guess the most popular survey answers. We provide a full game show setup, including an amazing set and professional buzzer system, to deliver an authentic, TV-style experience

The Big Big Game Show is one of our most popular options. We can come to you, broadcast live from our studio to you, and/or connect multiple locations at the same time for one shared game show experience. An interactive game show experience without the need for a full on-site setup.

So You Think You Know Me is a fun and interactive game show where couples go head-to-head to see who really knows their partner best. With multiple rounds and a variety of question styles, it's packed with surprises, laughs, and those "how did you not know that?" moments.

Jeopardy is a fast-paced quiz game where knowledge is king and quick thinking wins. Players can compete in teams of up to 10 people or alone like the original game, answering questions across a range of categories as the difficulty — and the stakes — increase.

Pointless is our newest offering and works in reverse to Survey Says. Instead of the most popular answer, the goal is to find the least common correct answer. It's clever, competitive, and rewards truly original thinking.

The Amazing Chase is an action-packed team game where players race around the world, navigating locations, completing challenges, and solving tasks along the way. It's all about teamwork, strategy, and speed as teams compete to outplay and beat the other contestants. We can also do this physically in your local town.
